FEVER AND AGUE, from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonous miasm of vegetable decay. This exhalation is evolved by the action of solar heat on wet soil, Magnelia, N. C., March 1, 1860.—27-2m. lation is evolved by the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rises with the watery vapor from it While the sun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungs into the blood. ohn Dawson, Pres't Branch Bank of N. The liver becomes torfrom the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in UPLAND, part covered with Pine. A fine Vegetable Garthe circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the CHILL. But in this effort it fails.— Then the FEVER tollows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through that other great excretory-the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandons the attempt exhausted, and waits for the recovery of are the fits or paroxysms of FEVER AND AGUE. Our neighbor of the Register is still engaged in denouncing "renegade Whigs." Our neighbor swears at other people in his last issue, and in thus denouncing "renegade Whigs" he is swearing at himself. It is well known that one day or one night in old Virginia, he "renegaded" from the Whigs into the Know Nothing ranks. And what is more, he swore that he was a B. of the above Company, will be pleased to see his former patrons, to whom he returns thanks for the liberal encouragement heretofore bestowed, and to wait upon them in the sale of 1 is goods.

> The Whig party was, but is not. It rose, flourished, prospered in a minority, and died with Henry Clay .-The Know Nothing party resembles it in this, that it too is in a minority. The leaders of the former party are, for the most part, the leaders of the latter,-we say Whig party are now Democrats. These Know Nothing leaders, like those of the old Whig party, flourish their temper best when in a minority. They say more sweet things of each other and of their opponents when in a minority. We confess we admire them-indeed the country admires them when in a minority. We are in favor of their being in a minority. They suit a minority, and a minority suits them. Our word for it, they may "renegade" from Know Nothingism as they "renegaded" from Whiggery, but they will never "renegade" from a minority.-Raleigh Standard.

> FAREWELL SPEECH OF FANNY KEMBLE .- A few evenings ago Mrs. Fanny Kemble read "Hamlet" in Boston to an immense audience, it being her last appearance before the public. At the close of the reading she made the following parting remarks, in a style, it is the speaker, those "gracious drops" at times nearly choking her own utterance:

"Friends, my work is done, but I could not bid you adieu without saying a few words, especially as I have THE READY FAMILY SOAP MAKER. been obliged to decline an honor conferred upon me by With which every family, with their ordinary kitchen greese, a request not to take a final leave of you this evening. can make all their Soap with little or no trouble-Hard, It is time that the book should be shut and the lids closed. I esteem it my good fortune that I am permitted to close my labors in Boston, where so long ago I appeared. Possibly some of my audience now present may remember me at that time. I cannot be too grateful for the kind indulgence always accorded to me in this city. Long live this noble land, this glorious New England. May Heaven's richest blessings descend upon you. May peace, prosperity and plenty attend you and your homes. I respectfully, gratefully and regretfully take my leave of you. Farewell! farewell!"

SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY IN KANSAS-ANOTHER VETO.-On the 2d inst., by a large majority, the Legislature of Kansas Territory passed a bill to prohibit slavery-in other words, to set free the five hundred slaves which are already there, as a punishment to their owners should they persist in holding them, and preventing the bring-ing of others. This high-handed assumption of power by the sub-agent of Congress, to the injury of the South, and in direct violation of the decision of the Supreme Court, has been very properly rebuked by the veto of ESTABLISHED 1760. Gov. Medary, in pursuance of the example recently set by Gov. Black in Nebraska. But the large majority by which the law was passed indicates its final adoption in spite of the veto. It will then become the duty of the Executive and of the Legislative department of the Gov-Would call the especial attention of Grocers and Druggists ernment to afford adequate protection to those citizens trains.
